We've got many years of experience in the development and production of new packaging for the tobacco industry. It has begun with the smoking products, especially cigar tins, but in the past 10 years we also created a large amount of tins for non-smoking products. In collaboration with clients, we have successfully developed various innovative and high-quality tobacco packaging in recent years. Because of this we know the market and requirements like no other, and we will use our experience to help you be our next satisfied customer.
